TWENTY-THIRD SUNDAY
IN ORDINARY TIME

FROM OUR PASTOR:

Do not do others what you would not like to be done to you

My dear brothers and sisters in Christ Jesus. Greetings from Fr. Cruz.

I am very happy to inform you that our Bishop, The Most Reverenced Gerard W. Battersby appointed me as your pastor and administrator of St. Patrick Parish.

At this juncture I would like to bring to your notice that I was ordained as catholic priest in 28 April 2019 and served the Archdiocese of Madurai, (India), as associate pastor for two years in two different parishes and three years serving as Vice-Principal and teaching for the students in the diocesan school and co-editor for diocesan monthly magazine. I have been a book author and compiled three books about motivation and the life of Mother Mary and Joseph. I had a graduation in Literature and in Education, and Masters in Psychology. I served as a resource person for retreats, seminars in various schools and colleges. Being a youtuber I have 3k followers and I post motivational videos and spiritual talks in my channel. Dear brothers and sisters, I am always available for you to fulfill your pastoral needs and spiritual guidance.

Today I like to invite you all to reflect on 'Love of Enemies.' Terrorism, crimes and other brutalities of various kinds seem to be the order of the day. The Jewish law of the Old Testament, 'an eye for an eye, tooth for a tooth' (lev24:20) seems to be as relevant today as it was in the ancient times. At this juncture, the command of Jesus 'love your enemies; do good to those who hate you' (Lk6:31) is still valid, and it holds good.

Jesus destroyed enmity only by loving. By His death on the cross, He destroyed sin and death, and thus we are able to understand the goodness and loving kindness of God. Jesus gives us a golden rule against the law of retaliation, 'do to others as you would have them do to you' (Lk6:31) by this, Jesus goes beyond mere friendliness and hospitality, and expects from us a change in our attitude towards others even when others curse us and treat us badly. Our reaction should be one of blessings and praying for them. Let us create a better world where love, goodness, joy and peace reign. God bless you!

Yours in Christ

Fr. Cruz
