

November 10, 2019
THIRTY-SECOND SUNDAY
IN ORDINARY TIME

FROM OUR PASTOR

We celebrated the saints at the beginning of November. But how do we get there, to that point? Here are some helpful ideas from Lyn Mettler, a blogger and writer for Shalom Tidings.

“Living guided by the Holy Spirit is not easy, as it is not how we usually live our lives. Rather, we tend to think what do I want right now and how can I get it? Or what do my kids want and how can I get it for them?”

What does it mean to live guided by the Holy Spirit? It means asking His guidance in all things...if we want to live “Holy Spirit-led”, then we have to turn it into a habit; we have got to get to the point that it is just a part of our “swing.” That means at least three weeks of doing this on a regular basis until it becomes ingrained in our day-to-day activities, so we no longer have to exert effort to make it happen. That takes practice! Not only do we have to remember to ASK, we have to remember to take time to LISTEN for His answers and then ACT on them.

Most importantly, we have to give the reigns of our lives over to God, allowing Him permission to guide us. Here are some other ideas and suggestions:

- Go to daily Mass as often as you can and present your questions during Mass.
- Spend some time before the Blessed Sacrament at the beginning or end of your day, lifting up your thoughts to the Holy Spirit.
- In the book “Walking with purpose: Seven Priorities that Make Life Work” by Lisa Brennkmeier, the author suggests taking some morning prayer time to do the following:
  - ==Using a journal, write a note to God/Holy Spirit about any worries, direction or concerns
  - ==Write down a list of what you need to pray for daily
  - ==Read the Bible-you can read the daily readings or follow a Bible reading plan
- Before major discussions, emails and phone calls, stop and say a prayer for those involved and that God’s will is done.
- Pray the Angelus at noon--set a timer on your phone and stop and pray this short prayer in solidarity with others around the world.
- Pray one of the Liturgy of the hours-download the Laudate app on your smart phone and stop and pray at 6 am, 9 am, 12 pm, 3 pm, 6 pm, or 9 pm.
- Pray your calendar each day. Stop and review your calendar, praying for each person you will meet or talk with that day.
- Daily Reflection/Examination of Conscience-Matthew Kelly’s “Dynamic Catholic” offers a great prayer process you can complete upon the close of the day, examining what you did and did not do to be the best version of yourself, pray for others, thank God for what you are grateful for that day, etc.
- Go to Reconciliation monthly, so you can properly “hear” the Holy Spirit rather than have Him be clouded out by sins, even the little ones.
- Engage in spiritual reading and look for answers from the Holy Spirit.

These exercises help us make time to ask and listen to the Holy Spirit but then it is time to ACT, which can be the toughest part. You are going to be out on the field, in front of everyone, putting into action all that you have learned in training and following the coach’s (Holy Spirit) orders even if you do not like them.”

It is not a matter of “Good Luck” but good listening and responding to the Holy Spirit to become the saint God has called you to be.

Father John
